

THE ALRESFORD ADVERTISER OCTOBER/NOVEMBER 2022

Established 1970

IN MEMORY OF HER MAJESTY QUEEN ELIZABETH II 1926 - 2022

As a nation we are in a reflective mood having witnessed the end of the Second Elizabethan age.

As a village, our mood will reflect the mood of the nation and the commonwealth as we process the enormity of the passing of someone who embodied a life of public service.

Several years ago, I was invited to the commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the Diocese of Chelmsford. The Cathedral was packed but intriguingly there was no start time for the service. The service would begin when the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh arrived - we were setting our clocks to Her Majesty's timing. As the moment arrived, a hush descended upon the cathedral - if we were on the street there would have been cheering but because we were in a place of worship - silence.

Like everybody else I strained to catch sight of our Queen and yet again she had chosen to wear a statement colour, so was easy to spot. As she walked through the Cathedral in near silence, smiles broke out as she walked and sat down. The service proceeded with a sense of joy and dignity as we savoured her presence.

As we learn to live within a new landscape, the grief we have for the loss of Queen Elizabeth II will also stir up other griefs. So many of us have "set our clocks" to Her Majesty - whether it be the Christmas Day address or waiting for her intervention and comment in moments of national significance. We remember her calm presence during the pandemic and the power and example of her isolated grief at Philip's funeral.

A few months ago, I was struck by a palace statement that addressed Her Majesty's load. At 96, recently widowed and recovering from covid Her Majesty would only be doing "light duties".

As we move from the second Elizabethan age we will have to get used to living without the example we have "set our clocks by". When it comes to public service, we have an example of seven decades impeccable service. As we reflect on all that was good, all that we have been blessed by, I think we would do well to note that it was her faith that was a constant resource to her and one that enabled her to act generously to all.

May the God of peace walk with you in this season as we grieve but also give thanks and could I suggest that we reflect on all who so graciously contribute to public life, whether heavy or "light". We remember the royal family in our thoughts and prayers and pray for King Charles III as he seeks to serve in these challenging times.

At this time of change for the Nation, we look for constants and note her majesty's faith gave her a constant that steered her life of service. May the constancy of God's love be our guide in this season. Let's commit to travel well together, be kind and serve one another.

Every blessing

ALRESFORD ANGLING ASSOCIATION

Est . 1968

Hello again to all our members and a welcome to any prospective members that would like to join our angling club. All our new members have settled in and are enjoying the benefits of the 5 lakes that make up the club's waters. Within a short period of time of joining all our members realise that it is the lakes surroundings with their abundance of wildlife that make fishing so enjoyable and relaxing. Although sudden downpours of rain, thunderstorms and strong winds do create reasons to doubt one's sanity at times.

Life in all the lakes is at an abundance at present with shoals of fry in the margins of all the swims. At this moment in time they are so small that identifying them is almost impossible, but they are a sure indication that the waters are clean and healthy. Most of the waterfowl have hatched and fledged their young with just Swans caring for their Cygnets at present.

All of the hard work of clearing dead undergrowth, Brambles, Nettles etc. through the winter months has proved its worth with an abundance of Foxgloves at the end of Bramley Lake, along with reeds and rushes around the margins. Arthur Bareham Lake, affectionately known as "the pit" has started to show a re-occurrence of these plants around the edges.

The club's matches have progressed well with some of the winning catches reaching up to three figures. Silver fish have been in abundance along with Chub and Tench coming to the scales. Carp, Bream and Tench have been giving some anglers a really busy and enjoyable days at Alresford pit lake. The Carp have been very shy to take Boilies but seem to enjoy Sweetcorn and Maggots and presentation is a key to success also. Could all members please read the match fixture list along with notices on gates to avoid arriving for a planned day to find a match is being held on that lake.

The club still has vacancies for new members and we would like to fill our books this season. We have become a club whose members are keen about their sport and look to the welfare of the club and its surroundings. We are still progressing with the purchase of the Grinsted Orchard Lakes and to retain these 30+ acres as a sanctuary for our members plus the wildlife that inhabits it for future generations. Once again, a big thank you for all the support you have shown the club and its committee to enable this to purchase to proceed. Please contact Jim Martin on 07786882064 to receive a membership form

It is hoped that during the next few weeks we will organise a Nature walk around the Orchard complex for local pupils attending Alresford School. Hopefully this will generate a love of the outdoors and could lead to future anglers of our club. Once we have achieved the first walk with all its accompanying paperwork we will hope to progress to fishing events.

As always, enjoy your fishing, stay safe and look out for one another.

Tight Lines.

RIVER

A river I am, yes that's me, a body of water running so free.

I toss and turn and I have a bed, but you can in me lay your sleepy head,

A haven for fish and bugs galore,

a breeding ground yet so much more.

I sweep through the land so clear and fast, through so many villages and towns I pass.

From a babbling brook and a narrow creek, a calming lake but it's me you seek.

That stream of water so fast and pure, where you can just paddle or so much more.

Take out a yacht or maybe a boat, or a pink lilo on which to float, a paddle you may bring but please remember just one thing.

I may seem calm and peaceful for sure but there are dangers upon my shore.

A river I am, yes, that's me, a calming sight and one of glee.

But don't take me for granted, I am not always kind, an unseen danger in me you may find.

So please when you see me think not once but twice, I may look serene but I'm not always nice. Beneath the waters oh so deep, are reeds and weed, on you I can creep.

I have more strength than you will know but please don't let me show you so.

I can drag you down so no breath you can take, so treat me with respect for goodness sake.

But I am also calm you see, where you can relax and be so free.

That double-edged sword from friend to foe, so just beware and watch how you go.

I am there for fun and frolics galore, a natural source and so much more.

I can be big, and I can be small, I am famous and not known at all.

I wind myself through cities and towns for I am a river and I have no bounds.

I can be forbidding all murky and deep and crystal-clear water over pebbles I sweep.

I have many names from The Thames to The Nile and flow through earth mile after mile.

I have a mouth, but I cannot speak it is my passage to the ocean I seek.

A river, I am, yes that's me, until I expand into the sea.

ST ANDREW'S REFLECTIONS Thoughts on Life and Faith

CARING FOR CREATION

I am writing this in early September as our rather overwhelming summer is coming to an end and our churches in Alresford, Elmstead and Thorrington are starting to celebrate the Season of Creation - Creationtide. This runs from the beginning of September to 4th October. It includes Harvest Festival and ends on the day that St Francis, the unofficial patron saint of nature is celebrated.

All through September we will be reflecting on, and giving thanks for the wonders of God's creation and celebrating the beauty and resilience of the earth. We will also be reflecting on, what is widely acknowledged to be close to catastrophic damage humanity is causing to the delicate balances in the natural world that sustain us and the other creatures with which we share this planet.

As part of our commitment to honouring God's creation our churches are working towards Eco Church recognition. This means that we are looking at how we use the land and buildings we have responsibility for. But not just this we are also thinking about how we live our lives and how the whole village can work together in initiatives, big and small to help our communities live a more sustainable life. As well as this we are also considering how we can campaign for planet friendly initiatives in this country and around the world.

It would be easy for these things to drop down the agenda as we all face huge rises in the cost of living but we can work together on things that help each other out and also contribute to a more sustainable life style. Our churches are committed to doing what we can to make this a reality. Whether you are a member of the village church, feel some connection with the church building or even if your never darken it's the doors we need to work together to help one another in this difficult time. Please let me or our Rector, Rev Andrew Fordyce know if they is something that we can work on together.

Bereavement Service Sunday 13th November at 6.30pm at St Andrew's Church

A short service that gives an opportunity to reflect on the loss of a loved one and to light a candle.

Just come along. It doesn't matter when you lost or whether the church was involved in the funeral or not. We will take the name of your loved one at the door so that it can be read out and you can light a candle in their memory as part of the service.

There will be refreshments after the service so you can stay for a chat.

Alresford Community supports Operation Christmas Child Donations (Shoebox Appeal)

Operation Christmas Child is run by the Samaritans purse, and is an amazing initiative to help ensure children in need and those in the poorest communities around the world have a special gift to open at Christmas. The scheme asks those that wish to participate to donate a shoebox wrapped in wrapping paper filled with gifts to a local drop off centre during National Shoebox Drop off week from 14th-22nd November. The shoe boxes will then go to the National Sorting Centre, where they will be checked and sent off on their journey to some of the poorest communities across the world.

This year we are trying to increase donations to the shoebox appeal, by raising awareness of the scheme and working together as a community. We are making it even easier to get involved by leaving 'drop off boxes' in key locations across Alresford Village where you can drop off a donation, without having to worry about packing a whole box. We will then collect the donations weekly, and get them all boxed up to go to the Colchester drop off ready for National Drop off Week.

It's a great idea for all the family to get involved in, and helps children understand a little bit about the world around them. It can give them a sense of looking after, caring and supporting others, as well as helping to education them about the world.

We will keep community members informed of our progress and upload regular photos of our donations via our Facebook page which can be found below. We will also track all of our parcels so we can share their journey including their final destination with everyone that has supported the programme.

Each shoebox also requires a contribution of £5 towards postage and packaging and Alresford Colne Rangers Football Club have kindly offered to contribute towards this cost.

From the end of September donation boxes will be at the following locations in Alresford: Spar, Post Office Shop, Doctor's Surgery, St Andrews Church (Church drop offs between 10.30-12.15 every Sunday, 2nd and 4th Wednesday of every month same times).

All donations must be new items, suggested ideas can be: blow up ball and a pump, a cuddly toy, personal care items (hairbrush, toothbrush, wrapped soap, hairbands) stationary (pens, pencils, note book, colouring book, stickers). Please do not include any liquid, sweets, war related items or medicine.

For information about the local Alresford collection please visit our Facebook page: Operation Christmas Child Alresford Community Donations or contact Tia on tiacthompson90@gmail.com Or Sophie on 07572902507.

The Annual General Meeting was held on the 2nd August 2022, and was attended by Trustees and 3 members of the public.

EXERTS FROM THE AGM

The minutes from the AGM last year were accepted and signed.

Finance:

Our Treasurer/Booking Clerk was not able to be present and the role is currently covered by the Trustees

Audited accounts for March 2021 – Feb 2022 were presented to the meeting.

It is planned to bring the AGM date, out of sync due to Covid back to an April AGM.

The Chair explained that over the past 2 years we have received just under £19k in funding (mostly from the Covid Retail and Leisure grants) but that we have spent this funding – see report further down.

Exact figures are also in our audited report, which was circulated at the meeting.

Annual Report of Trustees – was presented verbally as circumstances did not allow for a written report to be submitted.

- The Chair explained how the insurance premium has increased dramatically but we are now insured properly for a complete rebuild at today's prices should the need arise.
- We have moved to online banking and have transferred £5k into the new Barclays account from the old Santander one.
- The overhanging trees have been cut back from the neighbour's garden and we shared the costs of this with them.
- We have received Tendring District Council grants from Ann Wiggins/Gary Scott which have put towards keeping the regular hire costs down for regular user groups.
- We were given new chairs by the GP surgery and have them in the Munson Room.
- A Fundraising dance in Oct 21 raised £100 for charity and £100 for the VH.
- We now have regular window cleaning every 3 months.

- We had Acoustic panels fitted on the VH ceiling which we used some of our Covid grant money for – this stops people getting too close to speak to each other and eradicated the need to shout. Eliminates echo and is a major success.
- New 4-way air flow units fitted again using Covid grants.
- A leak on our flat roof has now been repaired this cost £6k but we had funding for £5k.
- We received £10k from the Covid Grant (Retail and Leisure) in 2021 and £2k in 2022.
- Our regular hire rates have not increased for 17 years.
- We have moved to quarterly invoicing for most regular hirers.
- Sue Gibson retired from the RCCE and we have a new contact – Danielle Frost.
- We have produced a form for hirers doing children's parties, to advise where they can put bouncy castles.
- We had a Christmas event in December 2021 which was well attended, and we had good feedback. This was a community event which was not a fundraiser.
- We sold our piano for a nominal fee, which was not being used and taking up valuable space.
- We have a current issue with our energy suppliers.
- The hall is being decorated this month and the floor will also be repolished. Total cost of all this will be £2-3k.
- A Vax floor cleaner has been purchased.
- We have moved away from using personal numbers and email addresses, so now have a generic email address which all committee members can access, and we have a mobile phone which can be passed around depending on who is available. We are also moving to an online calendar system so that all can see when we have availability (but booking with still be done through a human).

The Chair extended thanks to the committee, to Chris Sanderson for everything he does re maintenance etc. in the hall and said we save a lot of money thanks to Chris doing this. He also thanked Russel P for helping with plumbing issues as well.

Also, to David Bright for presenting our accounts in order for sending to the auditor, as well as Cath Patel for taking them over so we are now up to date. In addition, he thanked Nicola Lockwood-Pugh for secretarial duties and Elysia for her cleaning and caretaking.

Finally, Russell thanked Pat Burmby who has done the bookings and treasury for the past 18 years. It is a lot busier now and we have the added complexity of Pavilion and bar bookings.

Chris Sanderson also thanked Russell Milburn for being a very active Chair, and also Hayley Milburn who has stepped in and sorted a lot of our finance jobs/invoicing etc.

Jan Diggens, one of the observers, thanked the VH committee for all the hard work and also for keeping hire rates low for regular hirers.

There was no AOB and the meeting ended at 8.30pm.

ALRESFORD PARISH COUNCIL CHAIRMAN'S REPORT

October/November

Highways

General road safety and the detrimental impact of speeding vehicles is always a concern. A vehicle speed and volume survey has been requested of Essex Highways by the Parish Council for the B1027 near the junction of Cockaynes Lane. On the Wivenhoe Road increased monitoring and speed limit enforcement measures will be undertaken by Essex Police and Community Speedwatch, in addition special operations in the area by the Roads Policing Unit are bringing to book a number of those who drive dangerously. We have been informed that police resources are limited and the point we must remember is that ultimately drivers have the responsibility to drive within the speed limit and enforcement officers can only enforce when they see infringements.

A major setback for a number of Parish and Town Councils, including Alresford, has been the recently announced decision of Essex County Council to withdraw funding and scrap the highways devolution scheme, this is very disappointing as the scheme has played a significant part in road-sign maintenance, hedgerow trimming and latterly, repairs to kerbstones. Discussions are underway to make sure all existing projects are completed.

Some temporary repairs to potholes have been implemented in Wivenhoe Road, near the miniroundabout, it is hoped that this section can also soon have a thorough re-surfacing programme carried out of the miniroundabout structures. After considerable petitioning of Essex County Council the pedestrian crossing white lining, and other road markings have been re-painted, we thank Cllr Alan Goggin for his intervention.

Minerals and Waste

As mentioned previously in the AA the bridle path near Bretts works is not always a pleasant or safe walk or ride when there are many heavy trucks passing so close. The Parish Council has had site meetings with Bretts management, our County Councillor and County Officers to seek solutions to safety issues. Good progress has been made and works are to be undertaken to implement a range of vital improvements to address speed of vehicles and safe crossing points along the haul road.

Playing Field/Public Realm/Pavilion

There was an increase in regular littering on the field and play areas over the summer holidays and our litter picker, handyman and volunteers were kept very busy. We do ask that parents and guardians instruct their children that the many litter bins provided do have a purpose although it is fair to say that some older ones need to set an example by their own actions.

The tremendous volunteers from the football club have worked tirelessly throughout the summer to maintain the pitches and also to develop social facilities, the village is fortunate to have such dedicated volunteers.

Dog fouling is a continuing problem in parts of the village, of greatest concern is fouling in areas where children are likely to be located, such as the grass verges near the school and on the Staunton Gate development near the small play area, there are so many responsible dog owners but sadly there is a significant number who spoil things for everyone. New dog/general waste bins are to be installed at either end of the bridleway linking Marsh Farm and Ford Lane. Use of the Pavilion is increasing following the pandemic and we anticipate daytime booking to be in great demand. A new booking system is being implemented so that on-line viewing of availability is available – as ever we work closely with the Village Hall Management Committee.

Taylor Wimpey/Staunton Gate

It is extremely frustrating for the Parish Council and residents that development works on the play area, allotments and other public realm locations have not been signed off by Tendring District Council (TDC) this has to be done before the land can be handed over to the Parish Council. Taylor Wimpey has been asked to carry out remedial works by TDC and these matters are being attended to. Alresford Parish Council keeps in contact with the new Taylor Wimpey management team and we have been informed that the whole development will be handed over first to TDC and then passed to the Parish Council.

Planning

There has been controversy surrounding the temporary access arrangements to the new Children's theme/play park known as Wyvernwwod. Construction of the main entrance on the B1027 was delayed and Church Road and Ford Lane were used as routes to another temporary access point in Ford Lane. Enforcement Officers from TDC were informed by resident's, District Councillors and the Parish Council of this variation from planning conditions and the matter was deemed by Enforcement Officers as a breach of planning conditions. No action is to be taken by TDC as the correct entrance will be open soon and assurances have been given that only the main entrance will be used once it is completed.

St Peter's Church/War memorial,

Works are planned to improve the parking area as potholes and thinning of the gravel has occurred. The concrete marker posts have suffered a few casualties over the past year and where required replacements will be fitted.

Environment/Climate change

Climate change is an enormous issue. The summer months have been hot and dry, in fact too hot and dry. The fire risk to many properties in Alresford has been a concern and with justification, it has been very encouraging to note though that many people refrained from having barbecues and bonfires during the heatwaves.

Trees have died as have a number of plants and different planting regimes may be needed.

Water tanks fed from a new borehole will supply irrigation to the playing field. The hanging baskets around the village have reservoirs that can hold several litres of water and it was good to see the flowers lasting well throughout the summer but all baskets have now been removed and will return in the Spring. Airborne irritants have been a problem for some in parts of the village and the dust from harvesting and from quarrying seem to be the issues, the Council's environment working party will look at this health concern.

And finally...

The death of HM Queen Elizabeth II and the accession to the throne of King Charles III has been in the thoughts of many – the loss of Her Majesty came as a national shock and was a time for reflection. The longest monarchical reign in British history came to an end and there was a widely felt sense of personal loss. Alresford Parish Council carried out the necessary and immediate local protocols and will be considering further actions to mark this pivotal time in the nation's history.

Many in the village are concerned about the cost of living and in particular the dramatic rise of energy bills, the Council is looking at ways support and advice can be given as winter approaches. The Council has no direct powers to help individuals but as in the Covid crisis where food and medicines were distributed by Councillors there may be options to assist the community, the value of having so many volunteers is a wonderful aspect of living in Alresford.

DRIVERS - THINK ON THIS

I remember this tragic event as though it were yesterday. I've remembered it many times since, but never told anyone really, except my family. I have never written this down before and shall never again. You can act on it as you see fit. I suggest a glance at your speedo when driving through the village as a starting point.

When I was much younger, and lived a long way from here, I was at home from school (I can't remember why, might have been half term). It was mid-morning. I was just indoors from being out in my front garden, where I had been playing with some neighbours. Nobody was at home, just me. I had a little friend who I used to push around on his tricycle, up and down the path of the Cul de Sac where I lived, at number three. He lived at number eight. We used to do that back then. He was three years old. His name was Simon, and his Mum and Dad had moved there to get out of the big town where they used to live, and bring their little boy up more in the country. I remember seeing Simon, on the other side of the road that passed ours, holding his Mum's hand walking down the hill 30 yards away, homewards. The push-chair was full of shopping, and usually Simon was in it, but not this time. I think I went in for a drink of juice, it was a hot and sunny day.

I had just got to the kitchen when there was a squeal of tyres, a scream, a booming noise, and a second or so later, a whoomp, like the sound of a big soaking wet towel hitting a stone floor. And a lot more screaming. I had never heard screaming like that. And it went on, and on, right through me, and is so now. I can still hear it.

I dashed outside and immediately saw my little mate laying in the road just outside my house, not moving. Twenty yards away was a blue Mini Traveller. There was a little blood on the tarmac, and Simon's arms and legs were sort of skewed, not laying normally. I knew what to do, and ran straight indoors and rang 999. Not many people had a phone then, and I knew none of my neighbours did. It was on me. I remember jumping the wall round our garden, through the rose bushes. I dialled 999. I remember babbling to the lady operator on the other end of the line, who was so cool, calm, and collected; she extracted the information out of me that I was too stricken to say on my own. I could not speak. I just said, "ambulance," about fifty times. She was lovely, she must have understood straight away that I was a kid, and dragged the information out of me and stayed talking until I hung up. I'll never forget that lady. I went back outside and there were several people gathered round. Simon's Mum was sat on the kerb, still screaming and crying the cry that only mothers can do, with two ladies holding her. The Mini was stopped over the road. It had clearly been speeding down the hill and Simon had also clearly dashed out into the road, into its path, with the acceleration that only a three year old or an F1 car The driver was another lady, and she was completely coming apart, screaming and crying too. She had long blonde hair, with a yellow ribbon, blue denim flares and denim jacket on, beads round her neck, and flowers in the windscreen of the car, in a little pot. No shoes on. Other neighbours came out, and joined in. Someone brought Simon's Mum some brandy, which disappeared in a second, but did nothing. The screaming continued. In my head, I can recall that at any time of day or night. It scarred me forever.

The ambulance arrived, with a police car, all sirens and bells (we had bells then!) The big white Bedford ambulance halted and two fellows dashed round the back, and pulled out a stretcher and some other things. I remember the ambulance registration number on the silver and black plate ended with F. All the several bystanders were doing nothing. They didn't know what to do, and nor did I. A lady was sitting cross-legged next to Simon on the road, but crying and helpless. Just with him. There. Holding his hand. I was on my hands and knees and wriggled my way to the front and looked into Simon's eyes, saying soothing things, I don't know what. I do remember calling his name. There was blood coming out of his ears, and his skull was flat on the downward side. His eyes were looking in different directions, but both were still, and rolled up, but open. He gave me a short groan, and the ambulance chap literally picked me up and got me out of the way. I remember one of the ambulance men just saying "Oh dear", to the other. They both then gently got Simon on the stretcher, talking to him all the time gently, and with soft, kind, voices. They got Simon's Mum in the back with him, and screamed off to the hospital, bells and lights ablaze. Her shopping was all over the pavement on the other side of the road, and a kind lady picked it all up for her, and took it home.

The Police officer moved the lady's Mini off the road, and put her in his car. She was like a human jellyfish, completely in bits, screaming and crying, and dribble all over her, and she had clearly wizzed her jeans too. There was a big dent in the Mini's bonnet, and one headlight was smashed.

The Police car went, and another one turned up straight away. Two Police officers took statements, including mine. They had to keep finishing my words, because I couldn't get them out. One took some photos. The other had a huge rectangular lump of chalk, and marking the road, they took some measurements with a massive tape measure. They concentrated on a long black skidmark. My next door neighbour came out and washed the little blood there was away from the entrance to the Cul de Sac. She was crying. So was I. So was everyone. Eventually they went away, and it was suddenly very quiet.

I don't know what happened for a while then. We drifted back indoors. Me, still on my own, but not for long. Some short time later, my Mum turned up. She had been to the shops, too. She had seen Simon and his Mum there. I remember telling her all about it, crying my eyes out, and she was too. She made me a cup of tea, and all seemed to get better. But later, Dad came home, and we went through it all again. I remember my poor Dad's face. All my brothers and sisters, my Mum and Dad all had a family hug. A Police officer came later just before my bed time. He checked my statement again, and I remember having to sign it. It was typed out. I cried myself to sleep, and I remember I could hear my Mum crying downstairs.

The next day, it emerged, through the community grapevine, that Simon was dead on arrival. It was 26 May, 1970, and I was 12.

ALRESFORD BIKERS

Summer was ending, and almost without being noticed, the night seemed to float down, like a tossed cape of weightless black silk, shot with silver pellets from a shotgun fired by the Creator himself.

In the darkness, a Nightjar sang softly in a high tree. Badgers snuffled around, grunting to each other for company while they sniffed out slugs and other delicacies for their tea. An owl, unseen, hooted nearby.

The small group of motor bikers rode languidly through the forest, a small burst of light in an otherwise dark surround, arrow straight, a faint hum coming from the motors as they rode by. Unbeknown to the other critters with whom they shared the night, they were the Alresford Bikers, passing through, after a lazy evening's bimble round some lanes. Alresford Bikers meet on the second Tuesday of every month at 8pm, in The Pointer Inn, where hosts Sam and Neil always make them welcome. The crew have various activities coming up in the future, and you can join them free, gratis and for nothing. Sunday rides out to places of interest, some large, some small, all fun. Larger events, like the forthcoming Air Ambulance Run, which will have happened by the time you read this, and our rides always include inevitable endless cups of tea and very often bacon sarnies too. Anyone with an interest in riding and maintaining bikes, bikers, biking, non-riders, pillions, anyone, can come join us and shoot the breeze.

Meanwhile, back in the woods, AB trundled on, content just to be out riding.

ALRESFORD HISTORY GROUP

On Friday 11th November at St Andrew's Church at 19:30 there will be a Remembrance Day Talk. This is a recap of the first year of a five year project to research and record the 300+ men and women who fought in WW1 and WW2. Some of our war dead are NOT recorded on the memorials across the Benefice. The current Roll of Honour will be on display.

This 45-minute talk will high-light how we have researched; give tips for researching your own military ancestors and retell some of the stories of those who served from Alresford and Elmstead Heath. Then there will be a chance for questions before an one-minute silence. Doors open from 19:15.

A parallel exhibition will then be held on Saturday 12th November (10:30 - 15:00) and Sunday 13th (12:30- 15:00) in the Hub. This will show the research and local history items donated to our archives. Refreshments will be available.

ALRESFORD GARDENING CLUB

On the 4th August several club members enjoyed the Summer Flower Show held at RHS Garden Hyde Hall near Rettendon in Essex. A large variety of trade stands selling all facets of gardening, plants, sculptures, ornaments etc were to be found spread around the extensive grounds. The visit also provided an opportunity to walk through various garden areas and to note how well, or otherwise, certain plants were standing up to the very dry conditions.

Our September club meeting once again welcomed Marc Mchearn from Beth Chatto gardens. Marc gave an illustrated and very detailed talk on plant propagation. His enthusiasm and knowledge was very much in evidence, especially when explaining how the use of a single donor plant could provide a number of new plants saving a considerable cost outlay when creating a new garden or replacing existing planting.

In October we will be welcoming Jacqueline Aviolet to the club to give a talk entitled Brussel Sprouts to Tangerines. Jacqueline will be explaining how these two items and many others became associated with Christmas. Jaqueline owns a commercial garden nursery at Aylesford in Kent and she will be bringing with her a number of plants that members will be invited to purchase

Below are the remainder of the 2022 season events:

Dreams Can Come True...

Ever since, as a young girl, I was taken for a very sedate ride round the block on the back of a Honda 50, I have dreamed of being a pillion passenger on "a proper bike " - one with a bit more poke..."

A chance conversation with a friend at Church resulted in him offering to take me out on his Kawasaki 800.

So, on 15th July, I found myself "living the dream" riding pillion and feeling the power of the bike as we accelerated along the A120.

Thank you, Tony, for turning my dream into a reality. My bucket list is now just a little bit shorter.
