

Welcome from the Chairman

Once again as Chairman of Axholme Camera Club (ACC) it is my greatest pleasure to welcome all members returning to the club and to welcome any new members be they beginner or highly experienced photographer.

When the committee in May 2019 took over the running of the club, no one envisaged that we would face the problems of a worldwide pandemic. This has meant the cancellation of all meetings at the church hall from March 2020 until further notice.

We started the year well with good attendances each week; competitions were in full swing with varying members taking the first place. We held our first Saturday Workshop run by Andrea Hargreaves with twenty-two members attending. In addition, we had two further Workshops arranged throughout the year - Andrea for her second session and David Keep a renowned photographer was to give us his workshop. Unfortunately, these had to be cancelled, but we intend to reinstate them once we are back to normal.

With that in mind, I certainly hope that all members have kept safe and free from any contact of the virus C19.

We are planning to return to normal as soon as possible, providing the Government give the all-clear.

We, the committee, have discussed the present situation and what we need to do to ensure a smooth return. At a future date we intend to reinstate our yearly booklet as this gives us all important information relating to the weekly programme; information on judges and speakers, and some interesting points on photography.

The committee hopes you will find this year's information of interest and helpful throughout the coming period as you plan your year's activity with ACC.

Please accept my good wishes
