Image Exhibition 2025

Dingwall Exhibition Chairman's Report

This year's National Projected Image Exhibition, our 46th, was judged over the weekend of 11th–12th October using online remote Judging. Steve Bright, of 'Bright-Imaging' directed proceedings, and the PAGB Approved Selectors, the Observers and Club Members all participated from different locations across the Country. Online Judging is important to us as it gives our Club, based in the Highlands of Scotland, access to a suitably wide pool of experienced Judges.

Thankyou to all 478 Entrants who submitted an amazing 5,006 images!! Our Selectors - Andy Hayes, Chris Palmer and Keith Snell - spent many hours assessing the entries, and finally chose 1,130 images - giving an overall acceptance rate of 22.57%.

Dingwall Camera Club really appreciates the efforts of the Judges over the assessment weekend. Their wealth of experience, patience, plus friendly and cooperative attitude made witnessing the judging a real pleasure. We are extremely impressed with the final selection, which gives a superb collection of images, with a wide variety of subjects and styles. The Judges thought that the Open Colour (23.09%) and Mono Categories (25.40%) were very strong this year as reflected in the percentage acceptances.

The Awarded Images are shown below, followed by the full list of all acceptances. Details of the Exhibition and all accepted Images are also available to view on the PhotoExhib Website <https://photoexhib.co/dingwall/results-2025/results.htm>

We hope you enjoy the Exhibition. A Public viewing, with music accompaniment, will be shown in Dingwall, at Castle Street Church Hall, on Monday 5th January, 2026.

Judge's Report—Andy Hayes

I'm an experienced nature, wildlife and aviation photographer who dabbles in a little creative work - spending much of my time working from my home in Fettercairn, Scotland—with occasional trips to exotic places abroad: Europe, India and Kenya.

I am an Associate of the Royal Photographic Society, achieved Excellence/gold standard with the Federation Internationale del'Art Photographique, PPSA distinction with the Photographic Society of America and am a holder of a Distinction award from the Photographic Alliance of Great Britain.

Judging and giving talks on Wildlife, Aviation and General Photography, I have the pleasure of judging and speaking in person and remotely at national and international level.

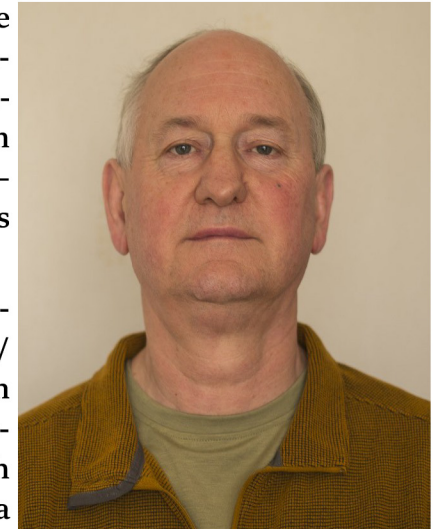

Work continues on several wildlife projects close to home and has produced AV's and Videos on Dippers, Goshawks, Wildcats, Pine Martens, Badgers and Woodpeckers.

'I am very conscious of the fragility of my wildlife locations and subjects and endeavour not to disturb or leave a footprint.

I encourage you to do the same'.

Working with the team at Dingwall was a very enjoyable experience. The two days were intense with viewing of over 5000 images. My specialist area, Nature and Wildlife, was generally good but I would like to see entrants focus more attention on the 'The Story-telling value'.

Judge's Report—Chris Palmer

I must confess to being a “photo-holic”, embracing all aspects of photography. I’m kept busy as a national PAGB judge, Fotospeed Ambassador, and lecturer. I’ve visited over 285 different camera clubs, and judged many regional, national and international exhibitions. I’m a Fellow of the RPS, serve as Chair on the RPS Visual Art Panel, and am an assessor on the Landscape panel.

I love pursuing my own photography, but also enjoy reviewing, assessing and judging other people's work too, so I appreciated the invitation to judge the Dingwall exhibition.

It was a somewhat onerous 2 day task on Zoom, but the reward was to see so many lovely images, and to respond positively to the accomplished and the excellent. The one disappointment was the general standard in the landscape category. With one exception no one had considered the wonderful opportunities of the intimate landscape; the importance of light; or of capturing the natural world with an original approach. Nevertheless the resultant exhibition provides a wonderful showcase of the talent within our photographic world.

My thanks to the organisers, to Steve Bright's efficient management of the judging itself, and to Andy and Keith who joined me in the judging task"

Judge's Report—Keith Snell

I have been a photographer since my teenage years, but I became more seriously involved in later life after I took early retirement from a career in medical research and moved to the UK Lake District sixteen years ago. At that time, I joined Keswick Photographic Society, where I have been Chairman and still remain their Competition Secretary. I lecture widely to camera clubs and other community groups and I am a PAGB-listed lecturer and competition judge, as well as judging international competitions.

I have over 50 medals from international salons and have commendations for 170 of my images, including from the Sony World Photography Awards in 2015 and the Bird Photographer of the Year competition in 2018. My photographic passion is for the natural world, including wildlife and landscapes, although I am also interested in ‘unnatural’ representations of landscapes using creative in-camera multiple exposure and ICM techniques.

It was a pleasure judging in the Dingwall National Exhibition, with the online judging so efficiently and ably organized. The standard of entries was exceptional in most of the entry classes, making the acceptances selection a welcome challenge. In general, the landscapes entry was somewhat below the standard to be expected, but there were some notable exceptions in those images selected for awards within this class. My congratulations go to all those photographers with images gaining awards in all classes. In a highly competitive entry of images, they should be rightfully proud of their achievement.
