

Faithweavers

Weaving faith and community into the fabric of society

Faithweavers is a not-for-profit organisation that has arisen out of the Bucks Forum of Faiths.

With the aid of a grant generously given by Buckinghamshire County Council, Faithweavers has set up a directory for faith organisations to join, in order to promote the activities that they undertake in their local communities.

We know that faith groups support children and young people, adults with particular needs and older people in all sorts of ways and would like to offer a free space for your ideas to be shared.

We welcome any faith or religious group in Buckinghamshire and bordering counties to add a website to this directory. If your group already has a website, then you can create a link from the directory straight to your own website.

Adding your website is quick and easy!
