

April Meeting – Italian Wines by Ron Gleeson

Another enjoyable event held by the Buckingham Wine Circle, Thursday, 20th April. 2023. The event was hosted by a previous member of the Buckingham Wine Circle, Ron Gleeson. Please see attached a list of the wines presented. As you will see, a mixture of both white and red wines. Ron circulated to members

A map of Italy marking the regions from which the wines had been produced. Together with the wines, there was also an Italian Quiz Presentation, testing how much knowledge members had of Italy. This gave another interesting dimension to the evening.

From the beginning of the new year, there are encouragingly, new faces appearing at events. I feel optimistic this will continue, both by 'word of mouth', and flyers being put in strategic places. Certainly all members seem to come away from each event, having had an enjoyable, social evening, made more relaxing, one might suggest, due to the wine tasting. 😊

The next event is on Thursday, 25th May, 2023.
