The 14–25 Strategy which was presented at our last Network Meeting was adopted by the Learning and Skills Partnership earlier this month. The Partnership will take the lead in taking the strategy forward with Richard Baldwin joining the Partnership and working with Jacqui Buffton to ensure coordination of efforts across the various sectors. The strategy acknowledges the important work of VCS organisations contributing to the objective of employment for all young people in B&NES. This includes our work in removing barriers to employment and improving self-confidence and resilience in young people. Read the strategy here.

National News and Information

Brexit – the Implications for the Voluntary Sector. NCVO has published a briefing on the implications of the UK's vote to leave the EU for the voluntary sector. The briefing covers the political landscape, funding and finance, social implications, regulatory change and the role of civil society. It states the implications of 'Brexit' include political uncertainty, slow progress on government policy change, and potential financial challenges. An NCVO webinar on 7th July will take a look at the impact on the political and policy agenda in the months ahead. Download the briefing here

NCVO are running a project called ‘Constructive Voices’, which aims to get more positive news stories in the media by connecting journalists with charities. "Charities have so many positive stories to tell (and often innovative, practical solutions to offer), on many of the big issues we face," says Giselle Green, Head of Constructive Voices project. "Too often these are going under the radar. We want to ensure these compelling solutions are heard publicly and rolled out more widely for the public good, where appropriate." NCVO are asking charities, social entrepreneurs and any innovating organisations to send in case studies of how they've achieved positive social impact in a range of areas, from tackling domestic abuse to growing old positively. It doesn't have to be the whole solution to a problem; it can address just one aspect. You can read more about this interesting project and how to get involved in this recent article on the Guardian's Voluntary Sector network.

Carers Strategy: Call for Evidence. The Open Consultation period has been extended until 31st July 2016. Views are being sought on a new strategy for carers that will set out how more can be done to support them. Click here to view the consultation paper and how to respond.

Digital Engagement: how charities can do it successfully. An interesting article that looks at the growing trend for first contact via digital channels, such as twitter and WhatsApp, and the need for fast responses to supporters and service users – especially young people. Read more here.

The Wood Report April 2016 is a part of a fundamental review of the role and functions of Local Safeguarding Children Board's (LSCBs). A number of fundamental problems have affected the ability of LSCBs to fulfil their statutory duties. Two of the most significant issues addressed in this report have been:

- The lack of authority over partner agencies in relation to child protection functions.
- The ever-increasing remit of LSCB's, Can the core model of child protection, which was designed to deal with abuse and neglect within a family setting cope effectively with more complex. Issues of safeguarding, e.g. trafficking children, child sexual abuse/exploitation, female genital mutilation, radicalisation and extremism which may require broader communitywide response.

The report proposes a new statutory framework which will require the three key agencies (local authorities, the police and health services) to work together to safeguard and promote the welfare of children in their local area. There will also be a clear expectation on schools and other relevant agencies involved with the protection of children that they will cooperate with the new multiagency arrangements. 'Using family therapy to reduce offending' is a Clinks case study focusing on Developing Initiatives for Support in the Community (DISC), and the work the charity carries out with young offenders, those at-risk of offending and other vulnerable groups. Their family therapy approach is based on an intervention which involves all family members and has been shown to be very effective at helping families and particularly young people address their underlying problems, improve outcomes and reduce offending. Social Media Essentials for Boards and Trustees. As well as the usual meetings and decision making, trustees and board members have a responsibility to be open and accountable to their stakeholders and beneficiaries. Communicating the work of the board can help to build confidence and raise the profile of the organisation and trustees. Clearly in this day and age, social media is a crucial means of communication but trustees may feel nervous to get stuck in. Here are some top tips for getting started. Read more here.

Recognising the signs of child sexual abuse and exploitation

The Children's Society and Department of Health have launched a free e-learning course and video to help NHS staff recognise the signs of child sexual abuse or exploitation and understand how to make children feel able to speak about what is happening to them. Although the training focuses on staff working in the health service, it is freely available to anyone who works with children. Further information: Seen and heard.

Children at home alone during the summer holidays

The NSPCC reports that between July and September 2015, its helpline received 453 calls and emails from adults concerned about children being left unattended. The ChildLine service also delivered 273 counselling sessions to children and young people who were worried about being left home alone. Advice is offered to parents who are deciding in which situations they may leave their children home alone. Further information: Home alone guide

Consultation on mandatory reporting of child abuse and neglect

The Home Office and Department for Education are seeking views on the possible introduction of one of 2 statutory measures: either a mandatory reporting duty or a duty to act for certain practitioners who know or have reasonable cause to suspect that abuse or neglect is taking place. The consultation is open until 13 October 2016. Further information: Reporting and acting on child abuse and neglect: government consultation \(PDF\)

Should Happiness be Part of the School Curriculum. Interesting article on the application and successes of Mindfulness and other programmes now coming more into the mainstream in our schools. Stepping Stones Family Group for September. Stepping stones club is designed for parents / carers facing mental health difficulties that want to come and spend some quality time with their child playing in a safe supportive environment, developing and strengthening their bonds.

The club is suitable for primary aged children. It will run on Wednesdays between 4.15pm and 6.15pm, and be held at First Steps Children Centre, Dominion Rd, Twerton, Bath, BA2 1DF . Dinner will be included at the club. Below is a list of dates for the club.

- 14th September 2016
- 21st September 2016
- 28th September 2015
- 5th October 2015
- 12th October 2015
- 19th October 2015

Ideally the parent who struggles with their mental health needs to bring one child of primary school age with whom they want to improve their relationship. If the parent brings all their children it generally does not allow the parent and the child to focus on their difficulties and they can continue to avoid the issues in their relationship. This can also be difficult for parents to arrange but they can repeat the group with each child in turn if they wish too.

If this is not possible could you call and discuss the family's needs with Teresa Bayfield (details below). If you have any families interested please let her have their details early enough for her to visit.

Teresa Bayfield, Tel: 01225 421686, Mob: 07530263455 Teresa_Bayfield@BATHNES.GOV.UK or tbayfield@nhs.net. Work hours are Thur 8.30-5, Fri 8.30-4.30.

Business and Funding

Grants of up to £1,000 from the One Stop Carriers for Causes grants programme for projects that benefit local communities within two miles of a One Stop store in Great Britain. (Twerton – the Hollow and High Street MSN) The programme is funded through the money raised from the 5p bag charge in One Stop stores in England, Wales and Scotland. Projects must meet at least one of the following outcomes: improving the lives of young people; improving the lives of the elderly; promoting physical activity; improving health or wellbeing; increasing community safety; and protecting or improving the local environment. This is a rolling programme, and applications will be accepted throughout the year. Find out more and apply here.

Funding to Support Disadvantaged Young People

The Weaver's Company Benevolent Fund supports projects working with disadvantaged young people (aged 5 to 30 years) to ensure that they are given every possible chance to meet their full potential and to participate fully in society. The Fund also aims to help young people at risk of criminal involvement to stay out of trouble and assist in the rehabilitation of offenders, particularly young offenders both in prison and after release. To be eligible for funding, local organisations such as those working in a village, estate or small town should normally have an income of less than £100,000. Those working across the UK should normally have an income of not more than £250,000. The next closing date for its grants programme is the 1st August 2016.

Big Lottery Fund announces new funding for communities

Six out of ten people surveyed say they have never or cannot remember ever coming together to celebrate with their community. Big Lottery Fund wants to help change this. They are offering up to £10,000 for organisations to bring people together locally. It could be to celebrate something in their local history or a local community hero. Or maybe it's a chance to bring people together to get to know their neighbours better. To be eligible, organisations must be either voluntary or community - with their own constitution and bank account - a school or statutory body.

Applications for funding open on 6 July 2016. Read more:

Deutsche Bank Small Grants Fund

Deutsche Bank and The Heart of England Community Foundation are delighted to announce a small grants fund for 2016. If you are a charity, voluntary or community group with an income of less than £250,000 per annum and you need funding for work focusing on increasing social inclusion and improving well being, this fund may be able to help. Deutsche Bank's Corporate Citizenship mission is to enable communities and economies to prosper. The focus the Small Grants Fund is to help society's most disadvantaged and communities on the ground. The Ironmongers' Company wishes to support projects that provide opportunities for disadvantaged children and young people to fulfil their potential.

Grants are only given to registered charities.

The Company is looking for projects that deliver clearly defined educational benefits to a specific group of children or young people. Items of equipment will be considered only where a full explanation is given of how they will support this activit. The Company is particularly interested in enabling primary age children to develop a strong foundation for the future. Projects could, for example, support special educational needs, address behavioural problems or promote citizenship, parenting or life skills. Preference will be given to projects piloting new approaches where the outcomes will be disseminated to a wider audience. More information:
