

DOWNLEY LOCAL HISTORY GROUP

Downley and the History of the Windsor Chair

A talk by
Stuart King

Stuart King was born in the Buckinghamshire village of Holmer Green in 1942, and played as a child in the local Beech woods. The countryside, and the trades and traditions of those that shaped it over centuries have strongly influenced his work. He has spent a lifetime researching, recording and collecting anything about the rural past, and today is a well-known local artist, craftsman, and wood turner.
