THOUGHTS FROM A LUCKY ONE

Having just read the May 2025 Focus, I admire and wish the cyclists well on their enormous commitment to ride from Zagen to Luckenwalde. 289Km Reverend Steve mentioned those who returned home after the war. Many never spoke of their experiences, but returned to pick up their home lives again. As an evacuee I never knew my parents until the war was ended at 7 years old. My memory is like a number of others who were lucky enough to still have two parents when the war was over.

THE STRANGER

He was a stranger, he stood at the door
In dull khaki uniform, home from the war.
He said-"We're so lucky-we're all still alive
Together again-back in late '45
He was a stranger- off out in great haste
In smart dark grey suit, in his hand his brief case.
He said "we're so lucky-I've still got a job
The working day's long- but it keeps our feet shod."
This stranger worked hard for the whole of his life
Thinking not of himself, but his kids and his wife.
He said "I'm so lucky- life 's not been that bad"
-Who was he this stranger?- His first name was Dad

RECTORS THOUGHTS

As I write this piece for June's issue of Focus, I am sitting in the Hayes Conference Centre in Derbyshire at the Diocese of Oxford Clergy Conference listening to the worship taking place in the room next door. It has been a busy three days with much to think about from the excellent series of talks given by Bishop Steven on the theme: chosen, called, and commissioned; based on three conversion stories from the Book of Acts: the conversion of the Ethiopian Eunuch, the African treasurer of the Ethiopian Queen's court who went to Jerusalem to worship God and is now on his way home when he meets Philip, who explains to him the meaning of the passage from Isaiah he is reading in his chariot, and baptises him there and then on the basis of the faith he expresses.

The second is the conversion of Saul, who has been persecuting Christians before meeting the risen Christ who asks "why have you been persecuting me?" on the road to Damascus, and whose life and name (from Saul to Paul) is changed forever; and finally, the conversion of Cornelius, a Roman officer and an occupier and oppressor of all God's people in the Holy Land who nevertheless, wants to know more about this person Jesus, whom his superiors crucified, yet refused to stay dead!

Each of these stories focus on an unlikely candidate for "sainthood" - for that is what it means to be a Christian. It just means being set apart or made holy (or forgiven); not by any act or virtue of our own, but purely by God's grace to live life anew in all its fulness, spiritually as well as physically.

A black non-Jew of indeterminate sexuality who would have been refused entry to the very Temple he has come to worship God in on the basis of his non-Jewish background, his colour and ethnicity, and being a Eunuch - someone regarded as neither male nor female - and even worse; debases himself by working for a female ruler in a man's world, unheard of in most countries at the time!

He would have been rejected by the Temple authorities, the "Church" of his day, in spite of being an important dignitary from a foreign land, yet still seeks the living God in the scriptures he has evidently obtained there, when God meets him in the person of Philip on the deserted Gaza road and welcomes him as one of his own.

A Jewish rabbi intent on arresting and killing as many leaders of the growing Christian community (both male and female!) to stop stories of his resurrection spreading, and who held the cloaks of those who stoned the first Christian martyr Stephen to death as he prayed to God to forgive those who were killing him. Someone who hated the early Christians so much he wanted them dead, and in so doing, was persecuting the very one they worshipped... the one who identified with them in their suffering as if it were his own.

And a Roman soldier who had doubtless killed many men and women in the duration of his military career, and was otherwise just as likely to arrest Peter and send him for trial as to ask him to explain the Good News of Jesus to him. A despised Gentile whom Peter, a devout adherent of Judaism still though also a follower of Jesus, would rather not have spoken to, let alone enter his house.

Each of these people were in some way unlikely candidates for conversion. Not only in their own eyes, but in the eyes of each of those called to minister to them: Philip, Ananias, and Peter; for whom the experience was just as much a conversion experience as their fears and prejudices about race, ethnicity, gender, sexuality, religion, and social standing or occupation were each challenged in turn, with God finally saying to Peter, "do not call unclean that which God has made clean".

June is traditionally "Pride month" for the LGBTQI+ community, but it is much more than that. It is an opportunity for each of us to reflect on our own deeply ingrained personal prejudices and hatreds. It might be our dislike of having noisy children in Church, or travellers, or teenagers roaming the streets because they have little else to do in the evenings. It might be people who do not look like, or worship like us. It might be those with no faith, or those who have one. But in each case, God's answer is the same. "Do not call unclean that which I have made clean!" - for we are all chosen, called, and commissioned by God to do something special with our lives - whether we know it or not, in as myriad different ways as there are people on this planet!

Vacancy for a Call Handler – Work from Home

The National Careline is a small, not-for-profit business that runs a freephone helpline and a website. It provides an information hub of charities, products and services that support older people or those caring for an older person.

We are looking to recruit a local person who can work from home, to answer calls to the helpline between 10am and 4pm Monday to Friday. We will consider a job share arrangement if applicants are interested in working fewer than five days a week.

Experience within the care sector/NHS/Local Authority would be useful but not essential. Our callers are often unsure about sourcing information via the internet and prefer the reassurance of speaking with a person; therefore empathy and patience are needed. Full training will be given on the type of calls we receive and information that we regularly provide.

Most of the information and support we provide can be found on our website – www.thenationalcareline.org

We offer a competitive local salary and a mobile phone will be provided. You will need to provide your own device for access to the internet.

Please send your application to office@thenationalcareline.org.

We very much look forward to hearing from you!

The good news is that you can buy your raffle tickets from today! A book of 5 £1 tickets will hopefully have fallen out of your Focus. This will allow you to buy early and buy again! Being in this raffle has brought many villagers great prizes with over 10 prizes each year worth over £50 and some reaching a value into the £100's.

Even if you don't win you have still done a good deed, as 100% of the proceeds are divided between local charities/organisations and our church.

Buying a ticket is easy; put your name and telephone number on the stub then take them with your money to : The Swan, or 17 The Close or 22 Greenway. If you want any more tickets, please ask and we will get them to you. Remember, don't bother selling to your neighbours – they've already got a book. So its friends, relatives and colleagues! Just as in the past, you will have the pleasure of a door-to-door visit, reminding you and promoting all aspects of this special day for the village. Bottles for the Bottle Tombola, cakes for the cakes stall and crockery to be smashed by the children. But that's not all! This door-to-door visit will also enable you to buy raffle tickets in case you want more or have lost them already!

As always, any help you can offer with set up, take down or manning a stall, please get in touch via Facebook.

Don't wait for the knock on the door – buy now and buy again!!

GREAT HORWOOD & SINGLEBOROUGH WI

His Majesty Henry VIII (portrayed by actor Tony Harris) graced Great Horwood recently for an evening of entertainment at the Village Hall, attended by WI members from Great Horwood, Padbury, Winslow, Stewkley, Thornborough and Thornton. The Tudor King gave a frank, funny and enthralling talk about his six wives and his power as a King overruling Parliament. It was a very interesting and entertaining evening.

Our May meeting, as part of the "Magistrates in the Community" programme, was an interactive "Mock Trial" whereby WI members took on the roles of Prosecutor, Legal Advisor, Defence Solicitor, etc as would happen in a real Magistrates Court. Members who acted the parts really got into their roles to make it an entertaining and informative evening showing how the judicial system operates and its complexity in sentencing. Thank you to Alistair Borland JP, for your time in preparing the Mock Trial and overseeing proceedings on the night.

We've lots more events to come this summer including a Fashion Show on Tuesday, 24th June, in the Village Hall, which is open to non-WI members too. Tickets cost £7 which includes a glass of Prosecco or a soft drink. Profits will be divided between the Medical Detection Dogs and Great Horwood Primary School. Doors open at 7pm and the fashion show starts at 7.30pm.

The fabulous clothes and accessories on the catwalk, supplied by Jackie's Mobile Boutique, will be available to buy on the night. There are also some super raffle prizes to win including a mid-week Spa Day for two at Horwood House Hotel and a half-day jewellery making workshop at Corzo and Wood. To book ticket(s), email ghorwoodandswi@gmail.com.

In July we have an outing to the gorgeous Rousham Gardens and a lunch at a nearby restaurant. More trips and events are planned for later in the year. Great Horwood & Singleborough WI will also be running their popular tombola stall at the Village Fete on Saturday, 5th July.

Great Horwood & Singleborough WI meet every second Tuesday each month in the Village Hall, with doors opening at 7.15pm for a 7.30pm start. If you'd like to join our friendly group or would like more information, please contact Ann Biggins at ghorwoodandswi@gmail.com.

REMEMBERING THE LONG MARCH - CYCLE RIDE SUMMARY

Day 1

Well day 1 has been one full of surprises. The day started grey, windy and pretty cold, very different from the small number of recent training rides we have attempted recently! A short ride from the hotel and muster point to the Museum at Zagan. We laid a wreath as the memorial to all POWs in all camps that had died.

A short ride down the road to Ilowa for a stop at the school and Church where many of the POWs were "billeted". Over 2,000 American POWs had a night's cover in this church.

We then travelled to Lipno to the barns where our father's found shelter. This was a particularly emotional visit for me as I have not been to this site before. The new owners (2018) are looking to restore all the buildings in the complex and the forest area of some 4 hectares, at some point, It may take 20 years and considerable skill in building and raising the required finances! We will certainly be looking to support them in the future and hope that they make it a fixture for the local recollection of the support POWs had on The Long March.

The next stop on day one's route and a long part of the second half of the day was along a cycle path that followed the river for many miles. The scenery was lovely, the weather had brightened. It was a challenge for us all to consider how different it must have been for the thousands of POWs trudging through thick snow, in inappropriate clothing at temperatures of up to -25 degrees centigrade!

Day 2

We went to the stables at Furst-Puckler-Park Bad Muskau which is a beautiful castle and gardens in Bad Muskau, close to where we stayed the first night. The stables were where many thousands of POWs were billeted during their march. The buildings have been extensively renovated and are extremely impressive.

However one can imagine them as working stables full of horses and the POWs having to share with them the space. At least it must have been warmer than being outside. The locals were proud to explain how their relatives gave extra food and rations to the POWs as they were wanting to help. Our next stop was Spremberg railway station which is where our fathers, along with thousands of other POWs before and after, were transported by cattle trucks further west to Luckenwalde. This was such an unpleasant experience that many said later they would have preferred to walk, despite the conditions and lack of guaranteed shelter. The main reasons for this were: they were made to stand as there were so many forced into each cattle truck, so no one could sit down. There were no facilities and little fresh air, once doors were closed and locked and they were sitting ducks as slow moving trains were easy pickings for allied air attacks on German "freight" movements.

due to the allied forces (mostly Americans) seeing columns of "soldiers", must have made their daily progress that much slower and more frightening. We arrived in Luckenwalde, which was the delivery point for many from the Stremburg railway station. A large camp had been created and many POWs who were sent to the Berlin area were placed here. We visited the museum and had a private tour of the Stalag Luft IIIa camp room and a brief outline of the museum as a whole, which was fascinating. We then rode to the cemetery to visit those who had fallen at the camp. Many were Russians and Polish.

Day 4

The last day of our ride started with sunshine again and clear blue skies. We have been so fortunate with the weather the whole trip. A little fresh early morning, however we have all preferred this to a roasting heat that would have had us drinking far more water and therefore stopping more regularly. Our route was expected to be around 60kms to Berlin and took us through some beautiful open countryside which was heavily cultivated, woods, and close to streams and lakes. One can imagine these being very different scenes 80 years ago in the harshest of winters across

Day 3

Day three was another beautiful day, if a little windy and chilly to start with. The roads and cycle paths continue to impress us I have to admit the cobbles in small sections of the roads in towns reassure me that narrow road tyres and "conkers" go well together! Apart from these few sections the riding was good and through tremendous scenery. It hit many of us that to attempt to walk in freezing conditions with little proper clothing and footwear day after day with the prospect of having to sleep in fields or bombed out buildings and little to no food, was something we were not experiencing! It brings it back all the more starkly, the conditions that the 80,000 POWs and their captures had to endure. That along with the friendly fire strafing that occurred, Europe since 1895! Stuart and I caused a couple of unplanned stops and delays for the “peloton” as we had been asked for further updates from CWR radio (Coventry Warwickshire) and Radio 5 Live. As one of the main aims of the ride has been to raise awareness of the Long March we didn't turn these down and standing by the roadside attempted to provide the requisite responses and information asked for by the presenters.

The arrival into Berlin was defined by the rapid cessation of agriculture and the rise of suburbs in its place. With good navigation we made our way between the increasingly heavy traffic to the Neue Wache memorial, a short walk/ride from the Brandenburg Gate and imposing government structures. We had a refreshing drink with the Bishop of Coventry who was in Berlin on official business between the two towns and managed to make time to join us and have photographs with us as we laid our wreath in the Neue Wache. A very fitting end to our journey and one whose support has helped us raise the profile of The Long March and almost raise the £10,000 target we had set at the outset.

We are going to keep the Give Wheel page open for a few months, as we have at least three schools who have expressed interest, but due to timing have not managed to arrange how they wish to become engaged. Since the younger generations are one of the key areas of interest to become involved and more aware of the events that have led to our current privileges we wish to find ways to make this happen. We made it!

A personal thanks from me for all the generous donations from the village - Roger

MEN IN SHEDS

Early summer is often our quietest time at the Shed and, for those of us lucky enough to be retired, the perfect time to get away before schools break up and the 'tourist season' kicks off in earnest. It's also a favourite time to get out in the garden and this brings a steady stream of garden tools and furniture for us to repair or sharpen. Bringing a pair of old shears back to life is a rewarding task that usually makes them a joy to use once again.

We are frequently offered old woodwork tools for our workshops but, to be brutally honest, we will struggle to make good use of any more chisels, planes or saws. What we can always restore and find a new home for are garden tools. If we assume that every household -even with just a patch of garden - will need a few basic garden tools then that's a lot of spades and forks. We all know that refurbishing and re-using is something we need to do more of but (and here's a trade secret) these old tools are usually far superior to their modern off-the-shelf counterparts. And how do we know this? Old tools are usually made from harder, high quality steel and they take a lot more effort to sharpen - but it's well worth it. Do get in touch if you're clearing out a garden shed and have tools to spare - or if you know someone who needs them?

As summer approaches, we are looking forward to Granborough's Charter Fayre on 21st June where we'll be manning our stall with all sorts of shed-made goodies for sale and don't forget The Winslow Show on August 25th. Production is well under way so it looks like we have a busy summer ahead.

If you have time to spare or your garden tools need refreshing then why not pop-in - the kettle is always on.

The Shed is open every Tuesday and Thursday from 10:00 - 4:00

Winslow & District Community Bus Needs Volunteer Drivers

The Winslow & District Community Bus relies on volunteer drivers to run all our services, excursions and hires.

We are always in need of volunteer drivers, especially at the moment! So, if you have a D1 on your licence, and have some spare time, please consider becoming a driver for your local Community Bus.

All of our scheduled routes start at around 9.00am and finish around 1.30pm. We pay out-of-pocket expenses.

We also run our own outings visiting all kinds of places, including garden centres, stately homes, shopping centres and countryside drives. The use of the bus is also available to local non-profit groups

We offer certificated training to MiDAS standard

MiDAS is the Minibus Driver Awareness Scheme and is administered by the Community Transport Association. The scheme provides a nationally recognised standard for the assessment and training of minibus drivers and has been designed to enhance minibus driving standards and promote the safer operation of minibuses.

WDCB provide free training to "MiDAS" standards for all our drivers. A certificate is awarded after successful completion of the course, which is valid for four years and is recognised UK-wide. Candidates must be aged over 21 and have category 'D1' on their licence. The course is usually completed in a day, the time being divided between classroom and practical work. The latter comprises coaching and assessment of driving skills plus a briefing on the use of the minibus wheelchair lift.

For more information, or to find out other ways you can volunteer your help, please visit the Volunteering page on our website www.winslowbus.com or call 07483 336440.
