PROCEDURE AS TO PARISH MEETINGS.

Conveners of Parish Meeting.

Where a parish has a parish council the chairman of the parish council or any two parish councillors may at any time convene a parish meeting.

In a parish not having a parish council the meeting may be convened by the chairman of the parish meeting, or any person representing the parish on the Rural District Council.

Whether there is a parish council or not, any six local government electors for the parish may at any time convene a parish meeting.

Times and Places of Meeting.

The parish meeting are required to assemble at least once in every year, on some day between the 1st of March and the 1st of April (both inclusive). The meeting may take place on a day in March or in April last. The proceedings of a parish meeting must not begin before 6 o'clock in the evening, Greenwich mean time or summer time. Where a parish has no separate council, the parish meeting must assemble not less than twice a year.

Subject to these provisions, the days, times and places for holding parish meetings will be fixed by the parish council, or, if there is no parish council, by the chairman of the parish meeting.

A parish meeting should not, where it can be avoided, be convened to meet on a bank or other public holiday.

School and other Rooms.

In a parish in which there is no suitable public room vested in the parish council or in the representative body of the parish which can be used free of charge, the parish meeting (whether there is a parish council or not) may meet free of charge at all reasonable times and after reasonable notice in any suitable room in the school house of any primary school or in any suitable room maintained out of any rate; but the room is either way must not be one used as part of a private dwelling-house. When any such room is required, a resolution offering notice to be given to the person having control of the room should be passed by the parish meeting. In some cases it might be convenient that a standing resolution should be passed at each parish meeting empowering a committee to take the necessary steps in preparation for the next meeting.

Public Baths.

A parish council may, during any period from October 1st to April 30th, close any swimming bath or bathing place under their management and, while it is so closed, may use it, or allow it to be used for such purposes as they think fit.

Licensed Premises.

The parish meeting are prohibited from meeting in premises licensed for the sale of intoxicating liquor except in cases where no other suitable room is available either free of charge or at a reasonable cost.

Notice of Meeting.

Not less than seven clear days before any parish meeting, public notice must be given specifying the time and place of the intended meeting and the business to be transacted, and signed by the chairman of the parish council or parish meeting or other conveners of the meeting. When the business relates to the establishment or dissolution of a parish council, or the grouping of a parish, or the adoption of any of the Statutory Acts, not less than fourteen days' notice must be given. In reckoning the seven or fourteen days, no day may be, both the day when the notice is given and the day fixed for the meeting need be excluded. Copies of the notice must be affixed on or near to the principal door of each church and chapel of the Church of England within the parish, and be posted in some conspicuous place or places within the parish. Notice may also be given in such other manner (if any) as appears to the persons convening the meeting desirable for giving publicity to the notice.

Adjourned Meeting.

Where a parish meeting is adjourned, no further notice of the adjourned meeting is necessary if no new business is to be transacted at the adjourned meeting.

PROCEDURE AS TO PARISH MEETINGS—continued.

Constitution and Powers of Parish Meeting.

Only local government electors registered in the parish or in part of the parish are entitled to attend and vote at a parish meeting held for the whole parish or part of the parish. No quorum is prescribed by statute. A meeting may discuss any parish affairs and pass resolutions thereon.

Any act of the parish meeting may be signified by an instrument executed at the meeting under the hands, or, if an instrument under seal is required, under the hands and seals of the chairman presiding at the meeting and two other local government electors present at the meeting.

The representative body of a parish (not having a parish council) must act in matters directed by the parish meeting.

Business of Annual Meeting.

Election of Chairman for the Year.

In a parish not having a parish council, the meeting, after having appointed a temporary chairman, should proceed to choose a chairman for the year, who must be a local government elector. The chairman of the meeting should not be a candidate for the office of chairman for the year. If more than one candidate is proposed and seconded for the office, the temporary chairman should put separately in the meeting the names of the several candidates and take the votes by show of hands in favour only of each candidate. A candidate may vote for himself. After counting the votes, the chairman should declare to be elected that candidate who has obtained the largest number of votes. The candidate elected chairman for the year should, in the event of his being present at the meeting, take the chair.

Chairman.

Usual Chairman.

The chairman of the parish council, if present at a parish meeting, will be the chairman of the meeting. He is entitled to attend whether he is or is not a local government elector for the parish, but if not such an elector, he shall not be entitled to give any vote at the meeting except a casting vote.

Chairman of Meeting.

In the absence of the chairman of the parish council or the chairman for the year, as the case may be, the parish meeting should appoint a person to take the chair. That person has, for the purpose of that meeting, the powers and authority of the chairman.

Duties of Chairman.

The chairman should conduct the meeting in accordance with any standing orders which may have been made by the parish council for the regulation of the proceedings and business of the parish meeting. Where there is no parish council, the parish meeting may regulate their own proceedings and business.

Minute Book.

Minutes of the proceedings of every parish meeting must be kept in a book provided for that purpose, and should be signed by the presiding chairman at the time or the next ensuing assembly of the meeting.

Majority of Meeting to decide Questions.

Every question to be decided by a parish meeting will, in the first instance, be decided by the majority of those present and voting on the question.

In form of Resolutions.

Questions should be submitted to the meeting by the chairman in the form of a resolution, and he should take the members of those voting for and those voting against a resolution.

One Elector and Vote.

Each local government elector may, at any parish meeting, or at any poll consequent thereon, give one vote and no more on any question.

5
PROCEDURE AS TO PARISH MEETINGS—continued.

Casting Vote of Chairman.

In addition to his right to vote in the first instance as a local government elector, the person presiding at the meeting will, in case of an equality of votes, have a second or casting vote.

Division of Chairman.

The person presiding at the meeting is required to announce his decision as to the result of a show of hands at a parish meeting, and that decision is to be final unless a poll is demanded.

Polls.

When Polls may be Demanded.

A poll may be demanded at any time before the conclusion of a parish meeting on any question arising thereat, (except that of the election of parish councillors which, under section 50 of the Representation of the People Act, 1948, must in all cases be conducted by means of nomination and, if necessary, a poll).

Generally a poll is not to be taken unless either the chairman of the meeting demands it, or the poll is demanded by either one-third of the local government electors present, or by five of such local government electors, whichever number is the less. Where one-third of the number of the local government electors present is less than five, that one-third may demand a poll; where five is less than one-third of the number of local government electors present, five may demand a poll. To take examples: if there are thirty local government electors present, five may demand a poll, so being less in number than one-third of the electors present; if there are nine electors present, three may demand a poll, so being one-third of the electors present, although those who form the one-third are less than five electors.

Ballot.

A poll consequent on a parish meeting must be taken by ballot in accordance with the Parish Meetings (Polls) Rules, 1950.

Close of Meeting.

When the business for which public notice of the meeting was given has been disposed of, the chairman should close the meeting by leaving the chair. No other business should be transacted.

Parish Meetings for Parish Wards.

Where a parish meeting is required or authorized to be held for a parish ward or other part of a parish, the persons entitled to attend and vote at the meeting, or to vote at any poll consequent thereon, will be the local government electors registered in respect of qualifications in that parish ward or part of parish, and generally, the provisions with respect to parish meetings for the whole of a parish, including those with respect to the convening of a meeting, apply as if the parish ward or part of the parish were the whole parish.

Execution of Instruments.

Any act of the parish council may be signified by an instrument under the hands or, if an instrument under seal is required, under the hands and seals of two members of the council.

Cheques.

Every cheque or other order for payment of money by a parish council must be signed by two members of the council.

Filling of Casual Vacancies.

A casual vacancy among parish councillors will be filled by the parish council, and the council are required to be forthwith exercised, for the purpose of qualification of any members. An election to fill a casual vacancy is not to be invalidated by any vacancy among their members or by any defect in the election or qualification of any members. An election to fill a casual vacancy in the office of chairman of the council shall be held not later than the next ordinary meeting of the council or, if that meeting is held within 14 days after the vacancy, then not later than the next following ordinary meeting of the council. A meeting for the election may be convened by the clerk. The persons elected to fill casual vacancies must be qualified to be parish councillors. A quorum of the council must be formed before they proceed to the business of election.

Proceedings of Committees.

A parish council appointing a committee and a parish council and other local authorities appointing a joint committee may make, vary and revoke standing orders respecting quorum, proceedings, and place of meeting of the committee or joint committee.

Subject to any such standing orders, the quorum proceedings, and place of meeting, shall be such as the committee or joint committee direct, and the chairman at any meeting of the committee or joint committee shall have a second or casting vote.

Parish Council Elections.

Under the Representation of the People Act, 1948, the ordinary elections of parish councillors must in all cases be conducted by means of secret ballot and, if necessary, a poll; and any provisions for their election at a parish meeting, or a poll consequent thereon, ceased to have effect.

The Chairman's Report

It seems that this year we saw one or two outbreaks of the year's work - but it has been a full year. The Public Council has been very busy and under the guidance of a very capable and responsible committee. The committee have been responsible for the organization of the office has been started.
