

NEOLIBERALISM VERSUS DEMOCRACY

T Availab o rac

A talk by Dr Pete

The current wave of so-called 'populis has brought the idea of 'neoliberalism' attention. Neoliberalism is often said t these movements are protesting agai 'neoliberalism', and what are its intelle

If neoliberalism is the spread of the m to every area of life, does this pose a t democratic politics? And if so, what ca about it? In this lecture, Dr Peter Dew: these questions, with a special focus c between the philosopher Jürgen Hab sociologist Wolfgang Streeck. Is demc protected at the national level? Or do market economy need to be held in c national institutions?

Dr Dewey is Professor of Philosophy at of Essex, where he has taught modern philosophy for over 25 years. He has p numerous articles on nineteenth and century French and German thought, and is also the author of three books: Log Disintegration (1986), The Limits of Disenchantment (1995), and The Idea of Evil held visiting positions in New York, Vienna, and at the University of Konstanz. F writing a book on debates in German philosophy in the 1830s and 1840s, whid while a Humboldt Fellow at the Humboldt University in Berlin in 2015.

Friday 16 June