Hello fellow gardeners. Here is our latest information update!

WAA Plant & Bake: A Blooming Good Event (No Bindweed in Sight!)

Our Plant and Bake Sale in May was brilliant: sunshine, good cheer, and a great turnout.

The tea and cake stalls did brisk business, with flapjacks, sponges, quiches and rolls vanishing fast. Inside the shed, tables overflowed with homemade bakes, rosemary and olive rolls, gooey flapjacks, and picture-perfect Victoria sponges, while outside, a fine spread of plants waited patiently for new homes — tomatoes, beans, herbs, courgettes and a few mystery squashes. People stayed for a chat, shared tips, and met friends, old and new. It was an event that showed what the allotment association — and the village — does best. All profits help keep the allotments growing and blooming.

Thanks to everyone who helped, baked, brewed, labelled, sold or turned up. You made the event very special. Main picture shows Jan Jefferis (Plot Steward) and husband Ben serving up drinks! Just look at the food variety we had on offer! (Photos Dave Garland)

Allotmenters to the rescue

Three allotmenters sprang into action mid-May when a lady took a tumble on the National Trust path. They brought her to the communal shed, patched her up with the help of our first aid kit and phoned her husband who arrived on site to escort her home. She was bruised but grateful. A minor accident, sorted without fuss — just part of what makes our allotment community work.
